The 19th century Gymnasium

The Site

The Gymnasium building dates from 1901. The building is a part of the curtilage of the Grade I listed Barracks. Its simple form is largely unaltered, and its original use is clearly apparent. The building was repurposed as a gallery by the Berwick Maltings Trust, and it has been in operation, bringing a range of events and contemporary art exhibitions to the local community, since 1993.

PROPOSED ENHANCEMENTS

The proposal focuses on the refurbishment of the Gymnasium Gallery, to provide a flexible space for the Maltings to display artwork and accommodate a programme of diverse events. The project aims to refurbish and restore the existing building elements to retain its "found space" character of the gallery and integrate it in the context of a wider proposed East Range project. It will provide the necessary thermal improvements including insulating the roof, provision of secondary glazing and new heating.
